Anna Paulowna, October 2011

Dear Sir, Madam,

77 Lubricants is one of the largest independent lubricating oil brands in Europe. 77 Lubricants produces and markets a comprehensive selection of high quality lubricants and specialties which find their way in a wide range of applications.

The products are developed and produced by specialists who can choose from a wide variety of base oils and additives, to obtain lubricants meeting the latest standards of the Original Equipment Manufacturers (OEM's) and International Standardization Comities.

77 Lubricants sells products which are only formulated with high quality virgin base stocks (absolutely no recycled base stocks) and carefully selected performance additives.

77 Lubricants are developed for different requirements. The products are designed to provide optimal lubrication under all circumstances and according to the manufacturer's recommendation.

77 Lubricants guarantees that our products exceed the specifications which are mentioned on our website www.77lubricants.nl

We trust to informed you well, and remain,

With best regards,

Pieter Kruijff
Director
